

Sean Doherty is the Chief Financial Officer at DSA Detection where he is responsible for the company's finances, compliance, and strategic direction. He has also served on both the finance committee and board of directors of the VNA of Manchester and Southern NH since 2015.

Prior to DSA Detection, Sean served as Chief Financial Officer of Minim (Nasdaq: MINM). During his tenure, Sean was instrumental in scaling the finance team, led a fully marketed secondary public offering of $25M concurrently with uplisting the company's shares to the Nasdaq, and oversaw the Investor Relations, HR, and IT functions of the company. Sean has been in various other finance-related roles for the past 15 years.

Outside of work, Sean loves to travel and enjoys golf and soccer. When not coaching his two daughters' soccer team, he and his family enjoy hiking New Hampshire's 48 4K footers with their dog, Aussie. Sean received his BA in Economics and Finance from SNHU and his MBA (Finance and International Management) from Northeastern University.
